It is not probable that Pope Pine 1X contemplates with any satisfaction that turn of affairs by which Italy is likely to become the cock-pit of Europe. If military chanticlesers must take the occasion now presented to convince the world of their prowses, be would much rather they would retirs to such a respectful distance as not to disarrange his collection of red hats, gowns, cowls, keys, and other parapheralis of an antiquated superstition. As a matter of fact, the Papal prerogatives are seriously threatened by the impending disturbance. That power which the production of completence, has gradually dwindled the control of the service ation of omnipotence, has gradually dwindled deavors to take the lead, but this time mesuccessfully.

A loud shout amounces that Ethan Allen has won the heat, and presently the judges suspend a black board from the judges stand, on which the time is written—2:27.7%. The winning horse was only half a length shead. The track, which, during the first and second heats, was in excellent condition, was now becoming very heavy, and the rain, which till now had failen lightly at sutervals, began to descend retadily. The effect was apparent to the third heat, which was run in 2:40. Ethan Allen, starting a little shead on the inside of the track, kept ahead during the whole heat, during part of which, as before, Lantarn was our a gallop. The drivers were spattered with mnd from head to foot. Ethan Allau was heantifully handled, as 1 Lantaru was drives exceedingly well throughout. on and truly national song." In the first stauza Allan was beautifully handled, and Lantern was driven exceedingly well throughout.

The next was a dead heat—time 2:35. On the third quarter Lantern passed bithan Allen and took the inside of the track. E.ban, tow a length or two behind, overtook his opposent on the boms stretch, and the two horsas came is abreast. It was claimed that Lautern was the least this in the world abeat, that the judges decided that it was a drawn game. The last heat was centested closely; but Ethan Alien had the inside and kept it, coming is, with Lantern at his shoulder. Ethan won the heat in 2:35, and thus won the race.

The recapiculation is as follows:

I NION CLUESE, I. I. —Wednesday, May 18—18 Maich for $10,000, mile heats; best 3 in 5, in double harness to wagons:

hia, two persons were slected as officers of the fall lection who are now serving out their terms in McLaughlin, b. s. Ethan Allen and rison for offenses committed. This occurred in the Fourth Ward, old Moyamensing, where so many frauds have been heretofore committed. This is the same locality that elected Bill McMullin, a notorious owdy, its Alderman, and is the house of most of hose clubs of ruffians which have so long diagraced Philadelphia. Of course we need not say that the district is as distinguished for its Democracy as William Smith O Brisa, after an extended ound of travel in the States and Canada, reached wess. Its oriver has never before arrive him, and the heavy, slippery track was more disadvantage-ous to him than to Ethan Alba, became ha is a horse of lougar stride, and takes fawer steps in the course of a mile than the latter. It is addressed to l'orier's Spiril, and enters into elaborate explanations of the circumstances of Seseiter's defeat. Three points are made as follows: ter's defeat. Three points are unade as rottows:

1. The fact that Mr. Phalau put upon the table, on which the match was played, a cloth of exching and vary unusual fineness. I had never played and that the nuaccustomed run of the bills upon it build be a serious derriment to uny game; but my isude, too consident to be particular, persuaded use make no objection to the cloth. Could I have the desired properties no all 1 m analytical.

to make no objection to the cloth. Could I have had tet days' more practice upon it, I am satisfied that I could have made a larger average by at least tive in a hundred.

2. The balls were of very usequal weight, so much so that I was all through the first thousand points in getting accentioned to them. I cannot estimate how much I lost in that way. I honestly beliave that I lost at least two hundred points by it. It may be said that as to the cloth and balls, they were as fair for one as the other. I answer that they were selected and brought on here by Mr. Phelan, and it is not likely that he went out of the usual course to his own detriment. ere. Clemens was at one time something of a fire-I helan, and it is not likely that he went out of the y usual course to his own detriment.

Mr. Phelan knew my game wall, having altentively watched my three long matches with Chrystal, while, on tha other hand, I krew nothing of his tactics or style of gams. Every billiard player will appreciate the decided advantage which he had over me by this, both with references to his preparatory practics and in the actual eucounter. eater. An important case was decided in the U. S. Circuit. Coart, before Judge Nelson, waterday. The case of Graham against Meyer, a cuit in equity, to recover the value of three itemships, the Ucean Hird, St. Lawrence, and one-third of the eteamer United States, alleged to have heen illegally converted by the defendant to his own u.e. Defendant a ked plaintiff about one-third the value of the ships for a mouths, for which lean the defendant was to have recaived a bouns of $20000 at the expiration of that time. Without notice, defendant sold the ships, alleging that he had purchased them and not alvanced the money as a lorn. The jury found a vertice to the ships isse the amount of the claim, with interest, as the value of the ships isse the amount advanced by the defendants.
